This book is not about Lance Armstrong. It's not about his incredible story of overcoming cancer and going on to win the Tour de France seven times. It's not about his subsequent fall from grace after it was revealed that he had used performance-enhancing drugs.

This book is about me. It's about my own journey through cancer. It's about the fear, the uncertainty, the pain, and the loneliness. It's about the hope, the love, the laughter, and the resilience.

I was diagnosed with cancer in 2010. I was 35 years old, married with two young children. I was healthy and active, and I had no family history of cancer.

The news of my diagnosis was devastating. I felt like my whole world had been turned upside down. I didn't know what the future held, and I was terrified.

But I was determined to fight. I underwent surgery, chemotherapy, and radiation therapy. I did everything I could to give myself the best chance of survival.

And I'm here to tell you that I'm cancer-free today. I'm not Lance Armstrong, but I'm a survivor. I'm a mere mortal who beat cancer.

This book is my story. It's a story of hope, courage, and resilience. It's a story that will inspire you to never give up, no matter what challenges you face.

What You'll Learn from This Book

- How to cope with the emotional and psychological challenges of cancer
- How to make informed decisions about your treatment options
